

Balcony & Stairway Balustrade

Cole Ironcraft have a long and distinguished history in the fabrication and installation of all types of balustrading.

We work for inner-city housing associations, public authorities, large and small construction companies, private bodies and private individuals.

Long and distinguished history

Our product range is equally varied from the most simple and functional to the most ornate and decorative, this covers both internal and external applications.

Our broad experience also extends to our site crews all of whom have many years service in all sectors of the industry.

From Simple & functional to the most ornate and decorative

Additional products and services include steel deck framing, decking and support columns. A wide variety of finishes include both stainless steel and aluminium.